"Our experience with Seema has exceeded our highest expectations! From the beginning, she set clear expectations for us from the time it might take to sell our property to the price we might receive. Her initial predictions were almost exactly where we settled. Knowing where we wanted to be on our sales price, she went through client after client until she found the right match for us.

As if the sale side was not good enough, she held our hand every step of the way as we purchased a short sale home in the neighborhood. There were many times when the problems we faced seemed insurmountable, but Seema would persevere until an acceptable solution was found. She was relentless in arranging the appropriate help to negotiate with the mortgage holders and other lien holders to remove all the liens on the property so we could get a clean and clear Title. At the end of it all, it was clear that Seema truly wants each customer to have the best buying or selling experience possible for them. She enjoys helping people and sacrifices many long hours to achieve that end. In today's complex real estate market, you can't afford not to have Seema by your side."
